¿Por qué hay batallas campales en el fútbol?

Ocurrió en ciudades diferentes: Ferrol y Vigo. Dos partidos de fútbol precedidos por una pelea multitudinaria ente las aficiones. Hemos querido saber cómo y por qué actúan estos grupos violentos.

The news team of V Television (a local spanish TV), interview with Professor Raul Eirín, member of the Stellae Group, in the report entitled ¿Por qué hay batallas campales en el fútbol? ("Why is there pitched battles in football?"), for comment aspects related to the prevention of violence in grassroots sport, in his condition of researcher at the IRIS Project.

The report was issued in V Television on Monday April 18. It can be seen (in spanish) at the following link (the interview with Raul Eirín starts at one minute and twenty seven seconds):

An article about IRIS published on the Finnish paper Keskisuomalainen

Haukkumista, homottelua, vähättelyä ja kuittailua

Liikunta: Syrjintää ehkäisevä EU-rahoitteinen IRIS-hanke jalkautuu keväällä Keski-Suomen kouluihin ja seuroihin.

Arkkikuvassa syönnöt tapahtuivat vielä tiedostamatta. Ei ymmärtänyt, että onsa laulettiin tai palkei vaikka joku on syönnötän. – Tuntuu nyt vatsasta pitävästä oh- va ongelmasta, mutta vielä suostuu- ni tunteita on, että liikunnassa ja urheilussa heidätään aika jalk- jän heikkous, mikä on todennäköis- mästi liian. Mutta hyvää onni syönnötä kylläkin kukaan kukaan kukaan, ja jos siihen, yrittä- mään, niin siihen saattaisiin kukaan kukaan kukaan, eikä ehkä- sulla laeva laeva kukaan.

IRIS-hankkeen ja koulutuksen 2015-hankkeen tulokset kokouk- sista. Vain viikkoja jyvänkylän se- domassa koulussa, mikä on kukaan- ja syönnöt kukaan.

An article on IRIS was published in Keskisuomalainen (the main newspaper in central Finland) on March 26th, 2016. The title of the article, in English, is "Calling names, calling someone a faggot, dismissing and harassing". The text of the subtitle says: "Sport: An EU-funded anti-discrimination project IRIS enters schools and sport clubs in central Finland in the spring". Prof. Marja Kokkonen, a team member at the University of Jyväskylä involved in the IRIS Project, appears in the photograph illustrating the article.

IRIS and the Spring Water Polo Festival 2016 (Patras)

The Regional Center of Vocational Training and Life Long Learning in Achaia, Region of Western Greece, promoted the IRIS Project during the 1st Spring Water Polo Festival 2016, held on swimming sport center "PEPANOS" in Patras from 26 to 28 April 2016, organized by the Sailing Association of Patras.

During the 1st Spring Water Polo Festival 2016, the IRIS Project team informed the coaches and the Physical Education Teachers on the implementation of the project and the educational platform, the educational materials and the innovative tools developed through the project. They discussed about the consequences of racism, discrimination and violence in grassroots sport, proposed measures and practices that can be applied in order to prevent these phenomena. The coaches and the Physical Education Teachers showed great interest and sensitivity to the subject of the project.
